The bill now going to the house, the interest has been aroused as to what action will be taken by that body. Before the senate voted the corridors were filled with prophets who expected the minority report to be carried by a vote approximately the figures such as materialized in the final voting. These same men after the senate vote predicted that the bill would go through the house by a big margin. Most of the house leaders were in the senate chamber.

FAVORS RE-ELECTION OF PRESI- PROSECUTION DISAPPOINTED IN DENT NEXT YEAR.

WILL NOT STAND HIMSELF

Won't Permit His Name to Be Used -A Republican Love Feast at Car dinal Gibbons' Jubiles.

Washington, June 6. — President Tatt in his candidacy for the presi-dential nomination in 1912 will receive the unqualified endorsement of former President Theodora Roosevelt, which will be uttered just as cordially as it was prior to the campaign of 1968 This is the best political news Mr. Taf has received in many months, and i comes to him in a manner that leaves no doubt as to its authenticity.

Roosevelt Won't Stand. The information that Colonel Roose welt, under no circumstances, will al low his own name to be presented to the republican national convention was conveyed to the White House severa days ago, but it did not become known until tonight. That Colonel Roosevelt feels that the Taft administration should be continued was brought out partly as the result of a cordial greet-ing between the two men at the Cardi-nal Gibbons jubilee in Baltimore today

May Not Be a Stump Speaker. Whether the Roosevelt approval Whether the Roosevelt approval of Mr. Taft's candidacy will go far enough to take the former president into the campaign as an active stump speaker is problematical, but that the force of his parsonality will be with the president is assured.

Will Disappoint Many Republicans. This fact is not expected to prove pleasing to republicans who have made no secret of their desire to bring Col-onel Roossvelt forward as a formidable onel Roossveit forward as a formidable rival for the 1912 nomination. Many of these republicans no doubt will refuse to abandon hope until Colorel Rooseveit himself, in quoted statement, announces his position and thus breaks the silence concerning the administration which he has maintained since landing in New York on his return from his African hunt.

News Broken by a Mutual Exical

News Broken by a Mutual Friend. The information that Colonel Roose-veit would be found aligned with the fact, the warm personal friendship, of Tomis both men.

Met at Gibbons Jubilee.

The meeting at Baltimore between the president and Mr. Roosevelt was only incidental to the celebration of the Cardinal Gibbons jubilee, but it was an incident that awakened the political interest of the senators and congressmen and others in official life who saw the two men together. They met first in the reception room in the Fifth Regiment armory, where the jubile alebration was held. They talked to gether there for ten minutes.

Conversed in Undertones. They shook hands with old friends, they chatted, laughed and behaved just as they used to do when Mr. Rooszveit was in the White House and Mr. Taft was secretary of war. They carried the spirit of friendship up to the platform and, sitting side by side, they conversed in undertones through much of the afternoon.

Greeted Secret Service Men. "Nice Jimmie," he said, as "Jimmie Sloan, one of the secret service guards, came up to shake hands, and "Hello. Joe." was the way he greeted Joe Murphy, another one of the secret service men whom he used to take "hiking" over the hills about Washington.
